praise for first edition key issues in secondary education addresses crucial cross curricular issues which are central to secondary schooling in the new millennium we are confident that this book will make a major contribution to the understanding of new teachers as they grapple with issues that go beyond subject boundaries and as they explore the fundamental issues which affect schools and young people today donald mcintyre and mike younger this eagerly awaited second edition has been fully up dated and revised with new chapters on the nature and measurement of intelligence and issues of race and racism in school and society other chapters addressing the rapidly changing world of educational policy and innovation have been substantially rewritten to take account of recent developments and current debates all contributors write clearly and accessibly without over simplifying the complexity of the issues or the value they pose the thesis of this book is that only a social personalism and no form of impersonalism can adequately account for the solidarity and stability of what we individuals share with all other members of our society our second nature in the ancient world the discussion of society at least since plato and aristotle began with the social nature of individuals as found in families and proceeded to topics such as the formation and the well ordering of societies according to eternal principles grasped by reason since the beginning of the modern world at least since hobbes and locke the discussion of society began with the relation of persons and society and then moved on to other topics usually political and legal ones the central problem was to find the basis on which individuals formed societies and how they could do so buford s question is with a more basic issue what do individuals and society share in common or what philosophers since cicero have called our second nature and how to best understand its unity and stability the crisis of our culture in the erosion of both solidarity and stability pointedly manifests itself in our second nature there the culture in which we live is felt lived and shared buford asks how we can lay bare our second nature revealing the extent of the crisis our second nature is the form of social actions of persons in triadic relations and buford argues that it is there that we find that trust unifies a society and provides the basis for the institutions that stabilize it
